KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

In the Workplace, You Have the Right to:

- File a complaint for unpaid wages, overtime, and vacation pay;
- File a demand for worker's compensation benefits if you are injured on the job;
- Sue an employer for retaliation or wrongful discharge if fired for speaking out about working conditions or wages;
- Organize and bargain over wages and working conditions;
- Protection against discrimination based on sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, or transgender status, race, religion, disability, ethnic origin, national origin, or age.

For more information or to file a complaint contact the Fair Labor Division at the Attorney General's Office at (617) 727-3465, mass.gov/ago/bureaus/public-protection-and-advocacy/the-fair-labor-division/.

When Encountering the Police

The Boston Police will not detain you for reporting a crime. Call 911 if you are the victim of a crime or see something that concerns you.

The Boston Police Department follows a community policing practice and does not inquire about or report your immigration status. It does not arrest or detain immigrants unless there is a warrant. You do not have to discuss your immigration or citizenship status with the police or any other officials. Do not lie about your citizenship status or provide fake documents.

Know the Facts to Protect Yourself from Immigration Scams

- You should only go to a licensed lawyer or a BIA accredited representative for immigration legal advice.
- Notaries and other community members are only able to fill out forms, they should not be advising you as to what form to fill out or how to fill out the form.
- For a list of licensed attorneys visit: massbbo.org/bbolookup.php.
- For a list of BIA accredited non-profit organizations and their representatives visit: justice.gov/eoir/recognition-accreditation-roster-reports.

If you believe you have experienced immigration fraud contact the Attorney General's Office at (617) 727-8400, mass.gov/ago/.
